

SENsory Sailors: Visual Guide

When you get to the Museum

'SENsory Sailors' is a fun workshop created for families to join in with. It takes place during the National Maritime Museum's opening hours.

SENsory Sailors starts at 11:00am.

We recommend coming to the Romney Road entrance of the Museum.

When you come in

When you come in, a member of staff will welcome you. Let them know that you have arrived for SENSory Sailors and they will show you where to go.

By the entrance you can also find the toilets.

The welcome area

The toilets

The Group Space

SENsory Sailors takes place in the Group Space. This is right by the Romney Road entrance to the Museum. It is the first door on the right after you come in.

The door to the Group Space is automatic. To enter, press the button by the door.

The Group Space has a laminate tile floor and windows that allow natural light into the space. There are some soft and hard benches in the space and other seating can be provided.

People you may meet

Each month either Lynn or Aaron will run the workshop. You can see who on the webpage.

Lynn

Aaron

There will also be someone from the Families team to support the session. This is not always the same person. They may have been the person emailing you, ahead of your session.

Visitor Experience staff wear blue uniform. They also wear a badge and carry a radio.

Anyone who works at the Museum can help if there

During SENSory Sailors

The Group Space and activities will be set up from 11am. Your family can arrive from this time.

There will be some drinks and snacks in the room and you can bring your own food into the Group Space too.

You can join in with different activities.

At any time you can leave the session to go home or explore the museum, we don't mind. If you need to leave the room during the session, your adult must stay with you. You can come back whenever you're ready.

A sensory tent will be available in the room during the workshop. You can use this whenever you want.

The session will finish at 12.30pm.

If you need to take a break and have a quiet moment at any point, speak with a member of the team and they will show you where to go.

Calmer spaces

If we all need to leave the Museum quickly:

If we need to leave quickly during SENSory Sailors, you will hear an alarm ringing in the building.

That means we all need to leave the building quickly and calmly. Just follow a member of staff or these signs.

At the end of the workshop

SENsory Sailors finishes at 12.30pm.

When the session is finished, you can explore more of the museum or you might go home.

