

This is the Cutty Sark. This is what you will see when you arrive.

You can enter the ship from here

Our staff wear blue uniforms like this.

You can ask them for help if you need directions or have a question.

They are here to help you.

This is the front desk. This is where you show your tickets or can buy one.

You can ask for a portable hearing induction loop here too

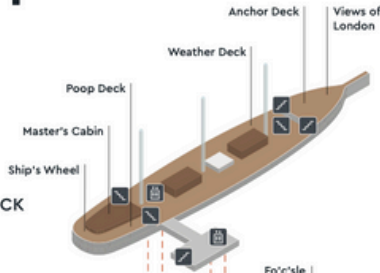

Once you have shown your ticket you go through this gate.

You can go straight ahead into the Lower Hold or downstairs to the Dry Berth

This is a map of the ship.

You can also ask someone in a blue uniform for help if you want directions.

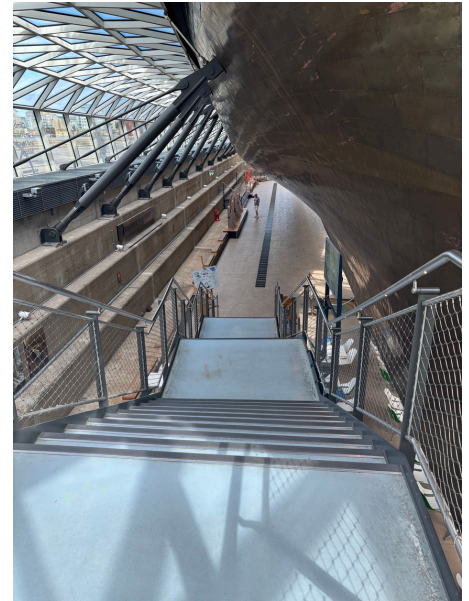

This is the lift from the entrance to the Dry Berth

You have to keep holding the button for the lift to move up or down.

You can also take the stairs

This is the cafe. You can eat your own food here.

Sometimes it can be noisy here.

You can order food and drink here. You can also ask for tap water or to refill a water bottle

Behind the cafe is a space you can leave buggies. Look for this sign

There are toilets next to the Dry Berth to the left of the cafe.

This is the accessible toilet.

Here is the inside.

There is another accessible toilet on the 2nd floor by the main deck

These are lockers you can use if you have a £1 coin.

You can ask for change at the front desk if you don't have £1.

These are the lifts by the toilets

They can take you to the main deck on floor 2

Here's what the inside of the lifts looks like

More spaces on the ship

Lower Hold

This space is dark, there are lights and sounds

There may be strong smells in this area

'Tween Deck

This space has low ceilings and has sound and music

More spaces on the ship

Main Deck

This space can be cold, windy and slippery if wet

Dry Berth

This space can be loud and has some sound effects

There are lifts on each floor.

You have to ask a staff member to help you use them.

When it's time for you to leave , you exit the ship in the same place you entered on the ground floor.

← You will go through a gate like this.

You will then go come out from one of these doors.

After this you might go home or you might go somewhere else.
