First Floor

The Undercroft

The Eyal Ofer Gallery

The Queen's Presence Chamber
Take in the immaculately restored painted ceiling above magnificent royal portraiture

The van de Velde Studio

The Governor's Parlour

Orangery

The Loggia

Faces of the Navy

The Great Hall
A magnificent geometrical space created according to Renaissance ideals of mathematical proportion

The Terrace
Take in sweeping views of the Old Royal Naval College and the Thames

The Terrace

Modern British Art

The King's Presence Chamber

The Terrace

The Terrace

Tulip Stairs
The beautifully detailed first geometric self-supporting spiral stairway in Britain

The Terrace

Entrance (with level access)

Entrance
The Queen’s House
Art Gallery

This beautiful royal villa was designed by Inigo Jones for James I’s queen, Anne of Denmark, and completed around 1638 for Charles I’s queen, Henrietta Maria. It houses an internationally renowned collection of paintings within a masterpiece of architectural design. Regarded as England’s first classical building, the House boasts a fascinating chequered history from royal pleasure palace to naval school. Explore the pictoral treasures that now hang here, forming the most important collection of maritime art in the world and one of the finest collections of British portraiture. Works displayed include masterpieces by the van de Veldes, Gainsborough, Reynolds, Turner and Hogarth, as well as contemporary installations.

Must see...

• Awe-inspiring architecture
  Take in the beauty of Inigo Jones’s first classical building in Britain; stand on the spiral Tulip Stairs and marvel at the perfect geometry of the Great Hall.

• World-class art collection
  Discover works by masters including Turner, Gainsborough, Hogarth and the van de Veldes; powerful war art, and exciting contemporary commissions including Turner Prize winner Richard Wright’s intricate and unique design for the Queen’s House ceiling.

• Views to the river
  Enjoy vistas fit for royalty, out across the lawns to the Old Royal Naval College and the River Thames beyond.

• History where it happened
  Explore the stories of the House from its royal occupants to its role in developing Maritime Greenwich.

Where next...

• National Maritime Museum
  150m from main entrance

• Royal Observatory Greenwich
  450m from main entrance

• Cutty Sark
  550m from main entrance

Key

-Permanent galleries
- Temporary exhibitions
- Retail & facilities
- Lifts, corridors, walkways
- No public access